Student Paper Competition

The Phillips G. Davies Graduate Student Paper Award

An annual competition, this award was named for the late Phillips G. Davies in 1999 to commemorate the long-term contributions of Dr. Davies to the interdisciplinary field of Ethnic Studies as well as to the National Association for Ethnic Studies.

The Cortland Auser Undergraduate Student Paper Award

This annual competition honors the late Cortland Auser, long time NAES Board member and Book Review Editor for early NAES publications, for his life long commitment and contributions to the interdisciplinary field of Ethnic Studies.

Requirements:

- Only papers accepted for the current spring NAES spring conference are eligible for these awards
- 10 – 12 pages for undergraduate and 20 – 25 pages for graduate students (*please note that graduate students will need to summarize their paper for their conference presentation)
- MLA or APA format
- A demonstration of originality, creativity, and a contribution to the field of Ethnic Studies
- Papers written for class requirements are welcomed if consistent with NAES conference theme

Winner in each category receives:

- One-year free membership to NAES
- Automatic review for publication in Ethnic Studies Review, the NAES journal
- $200, which is presented at the annual conference
- Framed certificate

NAES reserves the right not to make any awards in any given year if no papers meet expectations for quality.

Submission:

- Electronically send to Dr. Connie Jacobs at cajacobs@frontier.net
- Deadline – March 15, 2010

The National Organization of Ethnic Studies was originated in 1972 by scholars who envisioned an organization which would present an interdisciplinary approach to the national and international dimensions of ethnicity. NAES holds an annual conference and welcomes academics and non academics interested in race and ethnicity, ethnic groups, intergroup relations, and the cultural life of ethnic minorities. As a non-profit corporation, NAES provides a vehicle for interested members to promote responsible scholarship and advocacy in the diverse fields of enquiry which constitute ethnic studies.
